

True North Insight New Year's Retreat, Insight Meditation Retreat
Dec. 30, 2010-Jan. 2, 2011—Galilee Centre, Arnprior, Ontario
Teachers: Norman Feldman and Molly Swan

Welcome the New Year with reflection and intention, silence and community, surrounded by the beauty of Arnprior and the warmth of the Galilee Centre! Bring your cross-country skis, snowshoes and hiking boots. We will be supported by the meditation practice, dharma talks, and a midnight gathering. This retreat is suitable for those familiar with vipassana practice, as meditation instructions will be kept to a minimum. A silent daylong or weekend meditation retreat in the vipassana tradition or a meditation course with Molly are the suggested requisites.

Norman Feldman has studied and practiced meditation in the Theravada and Mahayana traditions of Buddhism since 1971, both in Asia and the West. Since 1986 he has been leading Insight Meditation retreats internationally, leading classes in sutta study, and offering support to dharma groups and individuals. Norman emphasizes the integration of meditation in retreats and daily life.

Molly Swan has been engaging in spiritual inquiry and dharma practice since 1985, both in Asia and the West. She has been teaching Insight Meditation retreats primarily in Canada & England since 1997 and offers classes, retreat days & individual support closer to their home in Guelph, Ontario.

Norman and Molly are founding members and guiding teachers of True North Insight Meditation Centre.
